- US: Fed signals that the cycle of increasing interest rates has ended if there are no inflation shocks in the near future. Data on inflation and the labor market showed a cooling, supporting the view of Fed officials.
- EU: ECB signals that the cycle of increasing interest rates has ended. High interest rates will hold for a long time. ECB commits to bringing inflation to 2% in 2025.
- China: Keeps easing monetary policy. The PBOC has lowered interest rates many times and the Government offered many economic stimulus packages.

GDP Growth and Consumption

Quarterly GDP growth (%YoY)

Domestic consumption prospered in the last months of the year

Source: BIDV Securities Company (BSC) compiled from GSO

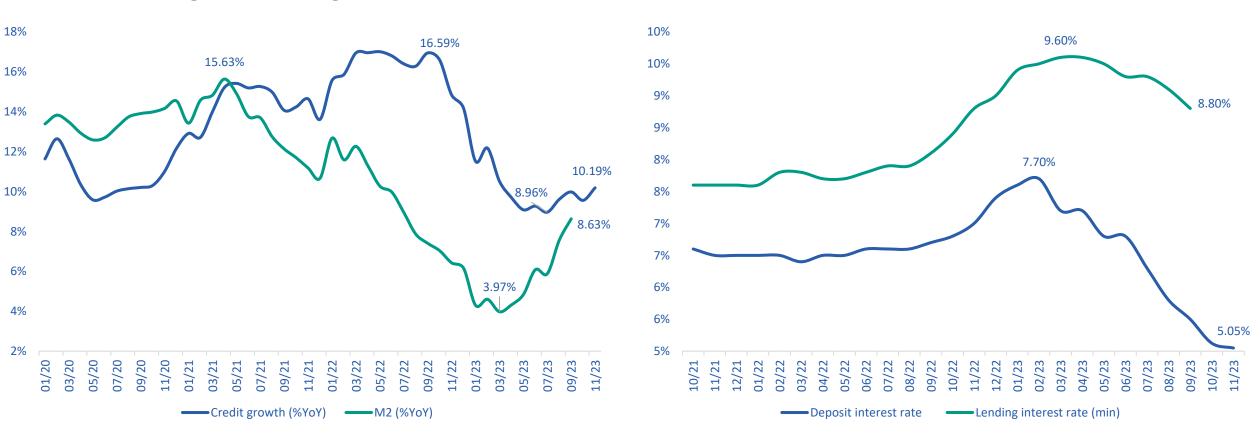

- GDP growth recovered towards the end of the year with the main contribution coming from the manufacturing component when import and export recovered.
- 11M2023, domestic consumption reached 5.66 mil billion VND, +9.65% YoY. Data showed that consumption activities in November were quite vibrant to prepare to serve major year-end holidays and welcome the new year 2024.

Monetary policy

Credit growth and M2 growth are weak

Interest rates continue to decrease

Source: BIDV Securities Company (BSC) compiled from FiinproX, SBV

- Accumulated in 11M2023, credit growth was low as compared to the same period: +8.09% YTD (same period: +12.01% YTD), leading to low money supply growth in the economy. BSC forecasts credit growth in 2023 to reach +10% YTD (target 14%)
- The weak demand for credit has caused commercial banks to continually lower interest rates. These two factors have showed recovery after SBV lowered its policy rates but remain at a weak level.

YTD).

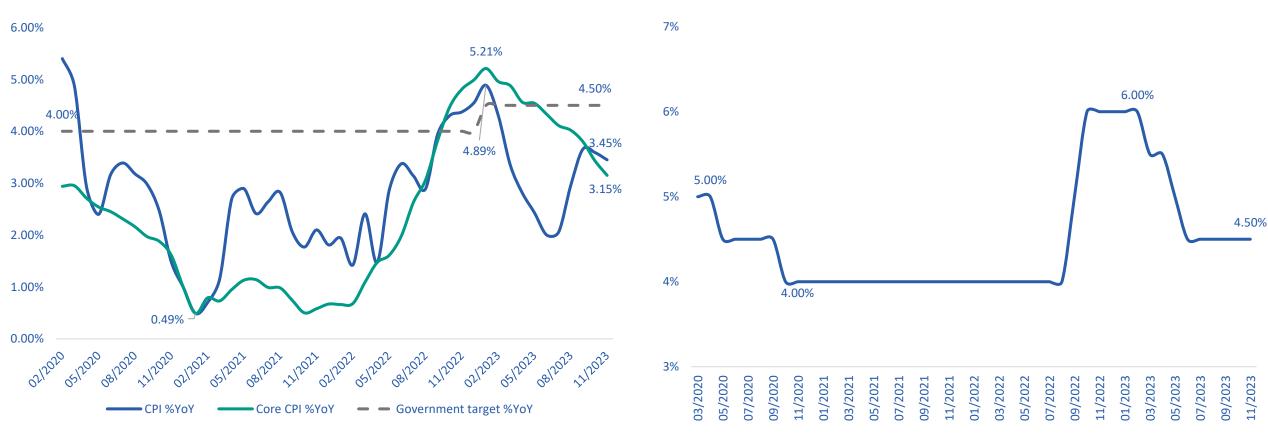

11/2023

Policy rate is low

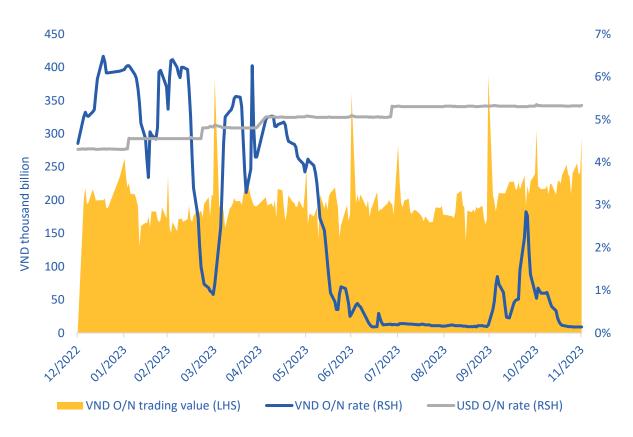

Source: BIDV Securities Company (BSC) compiled from FiinproX, SBV

- CPI in November 2023 +3.45% YoY. Inflation is higher in the last months of the year due to increased prices of rice, tuition, medical services, etc. On the contrary, gasoline prices and pork prices are factors that restrain the increase in inflation. BSC forecasts CPI in December 2023 +3.51% YoY and CPI for the whole year 2023 ~3.25%.
- Core CPI in November 2023 tăng +3.15% YoY, still on a downward trend. The core CPI was lower than the headline CPI, showing that inflationary pressure comes from fluctuating commodity prices such as food and gasoline, creating conditions for current policy interest rates to remain at a low level.

Monetary policy

The USD and VND interest rate gap is large

 SBV stop issuing bills from November 9, 2023. The decrease in system liquidity pressure causes interbank interest rates to go down again.

Domestic stock market movements and forecast

VN-Index recovered in doubt (+6.41%) in November 2023

VN-Index forecasting

Source: BIDV Securities (BSC

• After 2 consecutive months of sharp decline, in November 2023, VN-Index had a good rhythm (+6.41%) compared to the end of October 23; However, strong selling pressure gradually increased as the VN-Index approached the 1,120-1,130 point area, the "ATC phenomenon" appeared from the middle of the month and investor psychology became more cautious when the management agency announced the conclusion of the regulation investigate the case at SCB Bank, Van Thinh Phat Group. Buying force still appeared well when the market corrected sharply, but short-term profit-taking selling force also appeared as soon as the index increased. In general, investors are still very cautious in the absence of supporting information in the context that foreign investors continue to be net sellers and are concerned about the impact of the case at SCB Bank on the economy.

BSC Research updated two scenarios for the VN-Index for the rest of 2023: Scenario 1 (optimistic): 1,200 points, Scenario 2 (pessimistic): < 1,000 points.

P/E discounted 12.43% compared to 5-year average P/E

EPS tends to decrease, maintains more than 25% compared to 2020

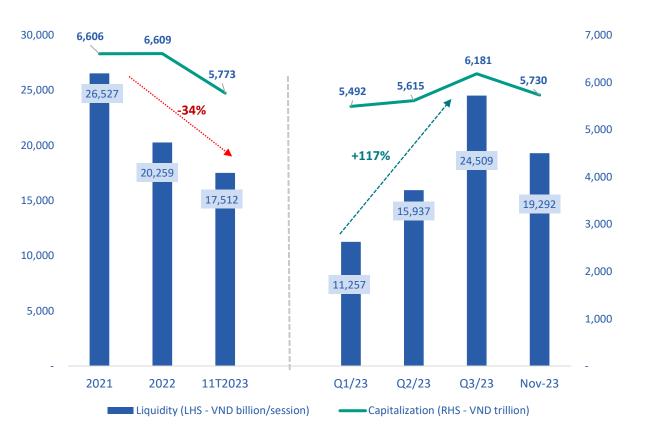

- VN-Index P/E closed at 13.95 times on October 31, 2023, down 7.75% from September, and a discount of 12.43% from the 5-year average P/E; P/B in November was at 1.59 times. This shows that the Vietnamese stock market is being priced at a quite attractive level.
- P/E VN-Index is forecast to move in the range of 14.25-15.0 in the optimistic scenario when VN-Index returns to the 1,200 point range.

Liquidity and trading structure

Average liquidity in Nov 2023 increased 11% compared to Oct 2023

Foreign investors continued to net sell, individual investors narrowed their net buying momentum

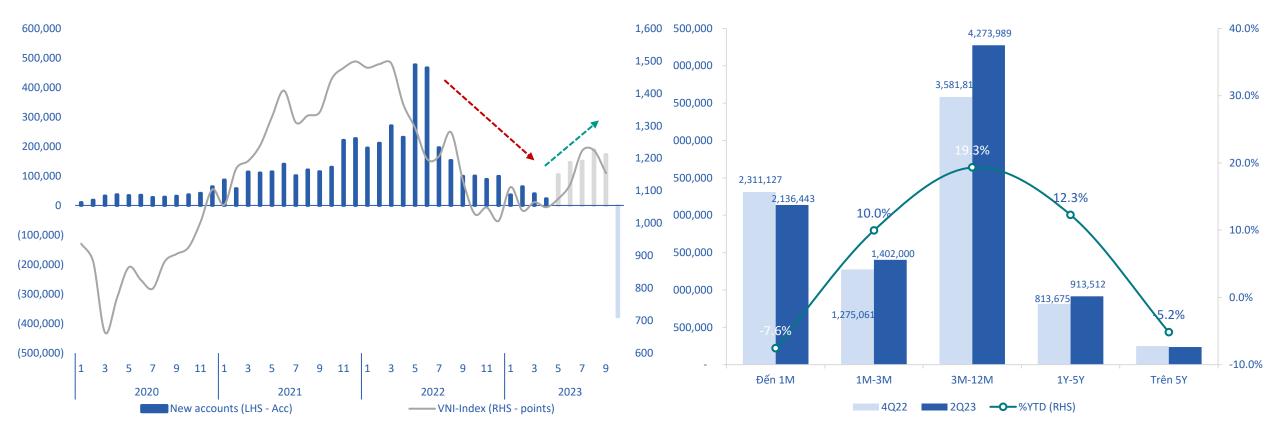

- Average liquidity in 11/23 on all 3 exchanges reached 19,292 billion VND/session ~ increased 11.38% compared to the average in 10/23, however the average in 11/2023 is still at a low level. (reaching 17,512 billion VND/session) ~ decreased 13.5% and 34% respectively compared to the average in 2022 and 2021. Total market capitalization at the rest of November 23 reached 5.7 million billion VND ~ decreased 6.5% compared to the average in Q3/ 23 and 13% compared to the average for the whole year of 2022
- The net bought momentum of individual investors has decreased by more than 22% MoM, domestic organizations continue to net buy strongly, at the same time, foreign investors increased their net selling value in November.

Individual investors in the market

Source: BIDV Securities (BSC)

- In October 23, 167,659 new securities accounts were opened a number nearly equivalent to the net new openings in September 23 (172,970 accounts) this shows that the trend of new openings continues to be maintained; However, in October, a record high number of closed accounts was recorded at 545,386 accounts of which the main reason came from the number of account closures at MB Securities Company with 543,753 accounts (accounting for 99.70% of the number of accounts closed in month), so in October, a net closure of more than 377 thousand accounts was recorded.
- This is a local phenomenon and is also the first step to concretize the Prime Minister's instructions for the stock market: clean data, standardize user information.

The net selling trend continued to last. By the end of November 23, foreign investors had net sold for eight consecutive months (from April to the end of November) with a total net selling value of VND 19,683 billion on all 3 exchanges. In 2023, foreign investors only net bought 2/11 months and this activity took place only in Q1/23 ~ a time when the market was still struggling and the trend was unclear. November is also the month that recorded the second largest net selling value of the year and also the third month in which the net selling value reached over 3 trillion VND/month (May, September, November).

DGC, SSI và HPG are the 3 stocks that foreign investors have focused on buying the most. On the other hand, VHM, MWG và VPB are the 3 stocks with the largest net selling.

- Financial services sector recorded the strongest increase in November due to the market's recovery and positive information supporting the upward momentum such as: easing monetary policy continues to be maintained along with expectations of the KRX system going into operations and the story of upgrading the market.
- Investor cash flow in November also witnessed differentiation. Food & Beverages and Financial Services are the two industry groups most strongly purchased by domestic investors, in contrast to the cash flow of foreign investors.

Outstanding margin debt in the market

Outstanding margin in Q3/2023 continues to increase

The ratio of margin /trading value in Q3/2023 decreased

Source: BIDV Securities Company (BSC) compiled from FiinproX and financial report of securities Companies

- The total margin of Vietnamese stock market reached over 155 trillion VND at the end of Q3/2023, up 9.68% from Q2/2023 and up more than 33% from the beginning of the year.
- The total trading volume of the market has declined since the end of October, along with the average margin debt/trading value ratio in Q3/2023, which fell by nearly 30% from Q2/2023. This indicates that the margin risk in the market is on the rise.
