Market outlook

Stock market: After a series of increasing sessions, today VN-Index had a decreasing session due to profit-taking pressure. Closing today's session, VN-Index decreased more than 12 points, equivalent to a decrease of 1.1% to 1,101.68 points. Market breadth tilted to the negative side when 16/18 industries decreased, of which the sharpest declines were the Media, Retail, Oil and Gas sector... Regarding foreign transactions, today they continued to sell. Net buying on HSX, HNX and slight net buying on Upcom. Today's session liquidity on the HSX continues to stay above the 20,000 billion VND mark, showing that large cash flows are gradually returning to the market, however, the struggling trend of the VN-Index may occur in the next few sessions because the index has progressed to the SMA200 area.
