

STOCK MARKET

Following positive news on tariffs, the VN-Index hit the ceiling right at the market open. The session then saw a “no-sellers” phenomenon, causing order matching to nearly freeze throughout the day. The VN-Index ended the session at 1,168.34 points, rising more than 74 points compared to yesterday. Market breadth leaned strongly positive, with all 18 out of 18 sectors gaining. In terms of foreign trading, net selling was recorded on both the HSX and HNX exchanges today. In the short term, the market may continue its recovery momentum; however, investors should closely monitor developments related to U.S. tariff policies, as the stock market is currently trading heavily based on these updates.
