Monthly Topic

UPDATING ON THE DEVELOPMENTS OF THE 2025 TARIFF WAR

- U.S. Tariff Rate on Imports from China: A minimum tariff rate of 145% is currently imposed on all Chinese goods, comprising a 125% reciprocal tariff and an additional 20% tariff effective from March 2025.
- China's Tariff Rate on Imports from the United States: A minimum tariff rate of 125% is currently applied to all goods originating from the United States.
- U.S. Tariff Exemptions Announced in the Executive Order Dated April 2, 2025:
- Items specified in the document titled "Clarification of Exceptions Under Executive Order 14257 of April 2, 2025, as Amended", dated April 11, 2025;
- ✓ Items listed in Annex II of the executive order "Regulating Imports with a Reciprocal Tariff to Rectify Trade Practices that Contribute to Large and Persistent Annual United States Goods Trade Deficits" dated April 2, 2025.

- Vietnam is currently in a 90-day deferral period for the 46% reciprocal tariff (until July 9, 2025), during which a temporary reciprocal tariff rate of 10% is applied. The following goods are not subject to reciprocal tariffs:
- ✓ Goods classified as “semiconductors” under the document titled “Clarification of Exceptions Under Executive Order 14257 of April 2, 2025, as Amended”, dated April 11, 2025. These products account for 31.23% of Vietnam’s total export value to the United States (see appendix for item details).
- ✓ Goods listed in Annex II of the executive order “Regulating Imports with a Reciprocal Tariff to Rectify Trade Practices that Contribute to Large and Persistent Annual United States Goods Trade Deficits”, dated April 2, 2025. After excluding overlaps with the “semiconductor” category, these goods represent 0.8% of Vietnam’s total exports to the U.S.
- In total, approximately 32.03% of Vietnam’s export value to the United States is covered by tariff exemptions as announced in the executive order dated April 2, 2025.

- ✓ United States: A 10% tariff has been imposed on all imported goods effective April 5. The implementation of additional reciprocal tariffs has been deferred for 90 days, with the new tariffs set to take effect from July 10, 2025. This tariff move has raised concerns about a potential economic recession in the U.S., prompting several financial institutions to lower growth forecasts and increase the probability of a recession.
- Eurozone: (1) Weak consumption. (2) Uncertain exports due to Trump's tariff policies.
- China: (1) Weak consumption and exports growth; negative real estate market. (2) Exports negatively affected by the ongoing trade war with the United States. Since the beginning of 2025, the U.S. has imposed a 145% tariff on imports from China, while China has imposed a 125% tariff on imports from the U.S. (For details, refer to the Monthly Thematic Section).

- The US: The Federal Reserve kept interest rates unchanged at its March 2025 meeting, maintaining a focus on inflation stability. The market currently forecasts a 79% probability that the Fed will keep rates unchanged in its May meeting.
- Eurozone: The European Central Bank (ECB) cut interest rates by another 25 basis points in March 2025—marking its sixth consecutive rate cut—as it prioritizes monetary easing to support an economy struggling with both internal and external pressures. The market projects a 94% chance that the ECB will continue cutting rates in its April meeting.
- China: (1) Continues to maintain an accommodative monetary policy alongside various other economic stimulus measures. (2) Has lowered the central parity rate (official exchange rate).

GDP growth in Q1 2025 reached 6.93% YoY

Consumption continues to be a bright spot

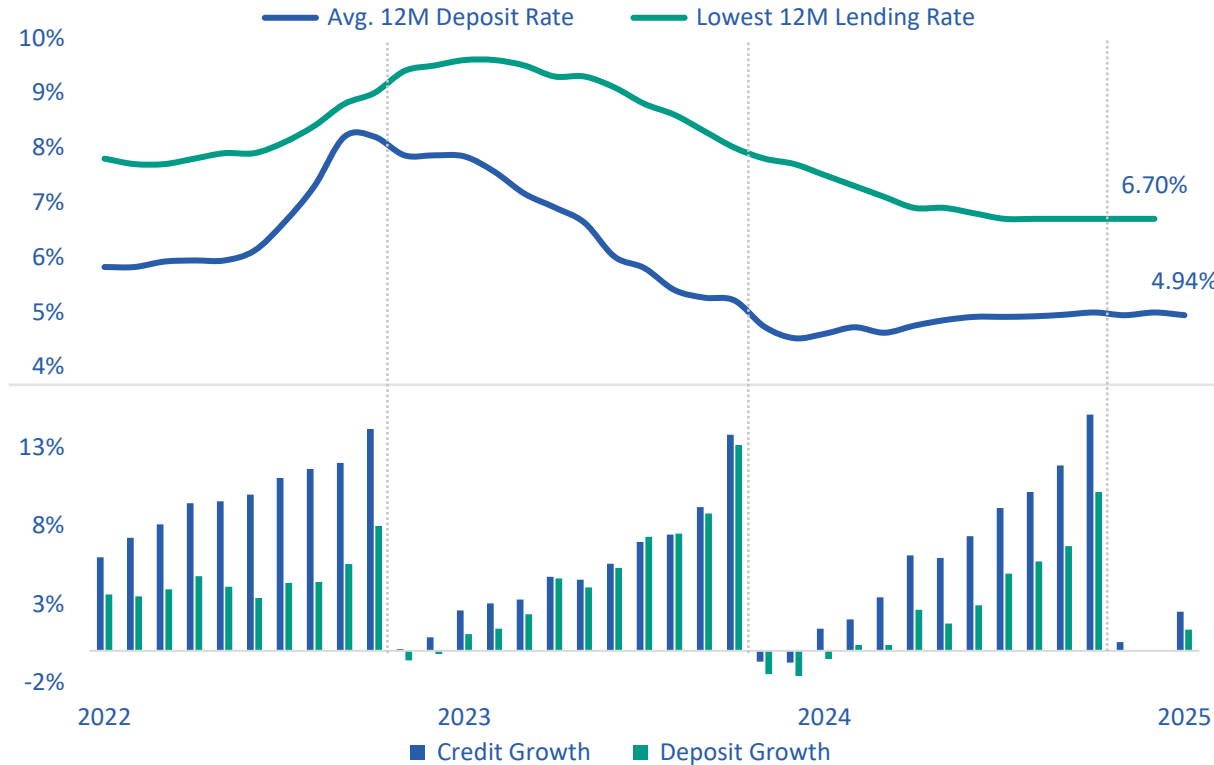

Source: BIDV Securities Company (BSC) compiled from the GSO

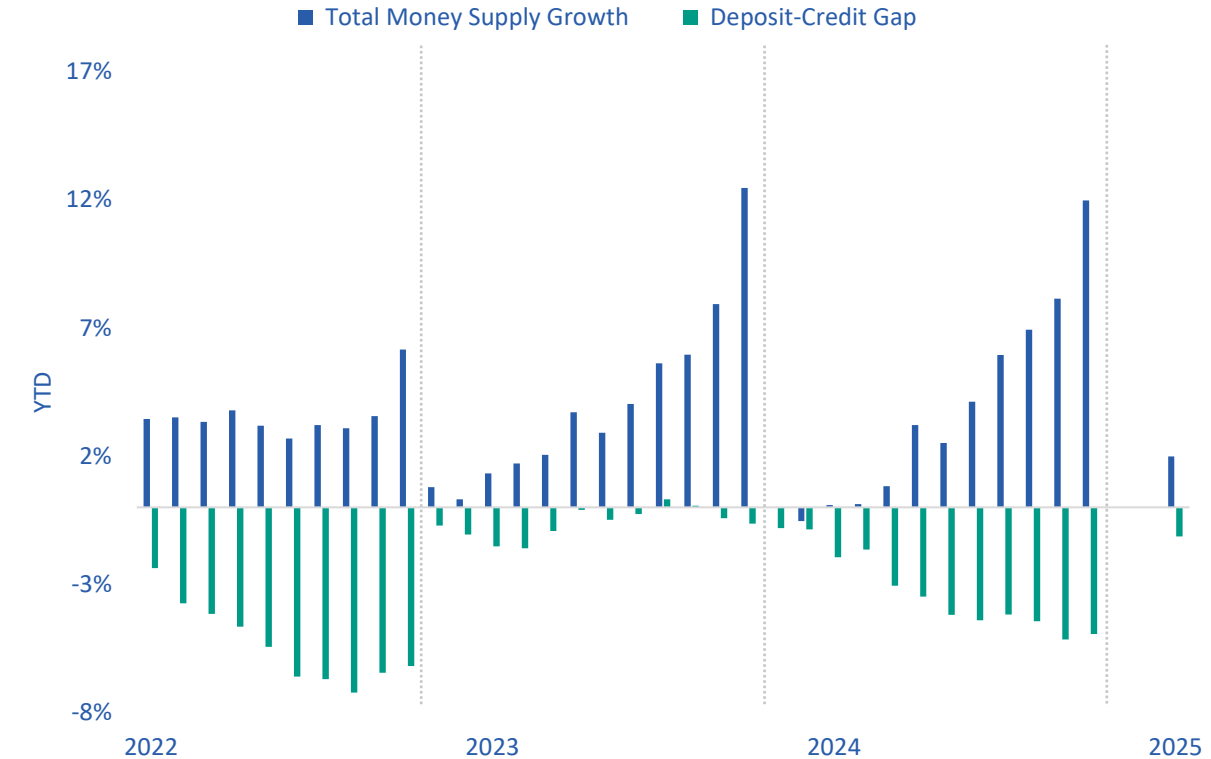

- Vietnam's GDP growth in Q1 2025 reached +6.93% YoY.
- The government has set a minimum GDP growth target of 8% YoY for 2025.

- 3M2025, total retail sales of goods and consumer services reached VND 1.70 quadrillion, up 9.85% YoY.
- 3M2025, retail sales of goods—which accounted for 76.1% of the total—reached VND 1.31 quadrillion, up 8.79% YoY.

Many commercial banks have cut savings rates as the PM's directive

Total means of payment recorded strong growth compared to the same period last year

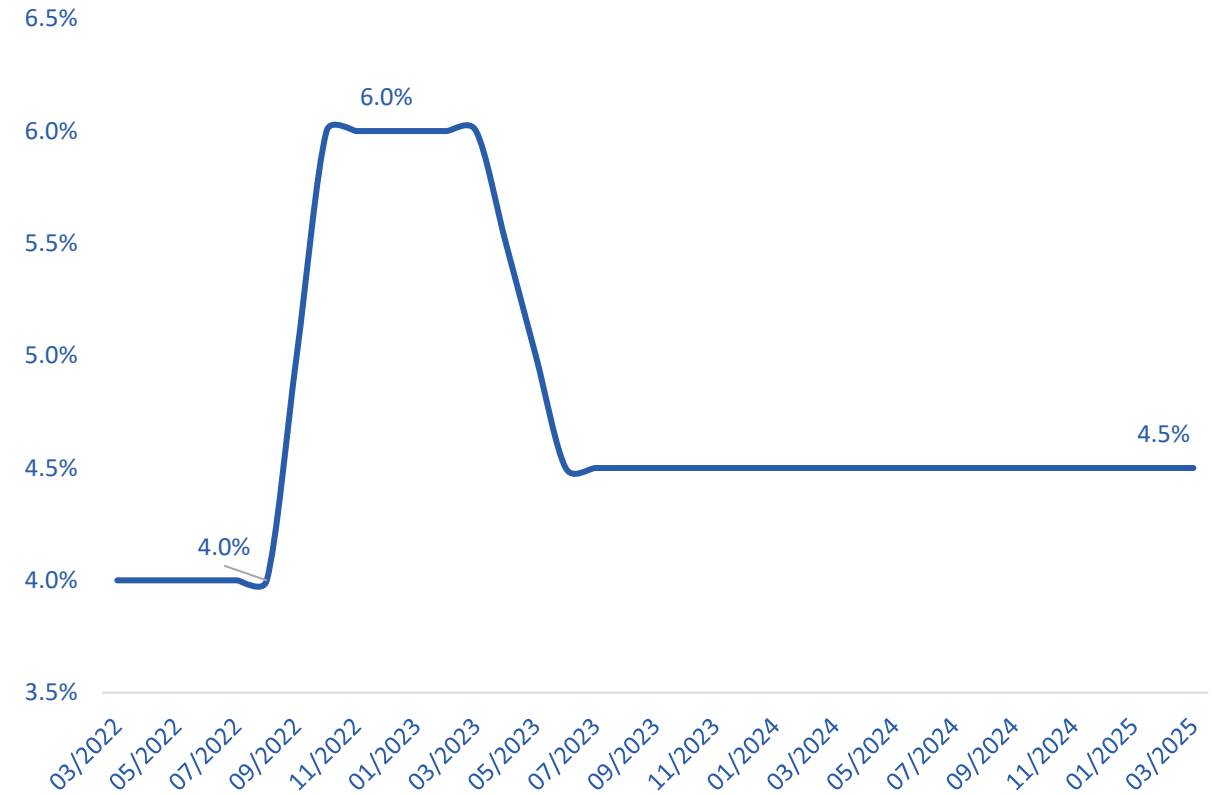

Source: BIDV Securities Company (BSC) compiled from FiinProX and other sources

- As of March 25, 2025, (1) Credit growth reached +2.49% YTD, showing a strong acceleration in March (compared to +0.01% YTD recorded in February); (2) Deposit mobilization by credit institutions increased by +1.36% YTD; (3) Total means of payment rose by +1.99% YTD. Indicators (2) and (3) showed significant improvements compared to the same period in 2024 (respectively -0.53% YTD and +0.09% YTD) and marked the highest levels in the past three years.
- Deposit and lending interest rates remained at low levels. The Prime Minister signed and issued Directive No. 19/CD-TTg dated February 24, 2025, and Directive No. 22/CD-TTg dated March 9, 2025, both of which instructed the commercial banking system to lower the deposit interest rate levels.

Moderate inflationary pressure in 2025...

...creates favorable conditions for a loose monetary policy.

Source: BIDV Securities Company (BSC) compiled from FiinProX and other sources

- In March 2025, the Consumer Price Index (CPI) increased by +3.13% YoY, while core inflation rose by +3.10% YoY.
- During the month, fuel and rice prices declined in line with global price movements, and live pig prices also cooled down.
- Inflation remains below the 4.5% target, and with moderate inflation pressure in 2025 (domestic gasoline prices are expected to decrease in line with global oil prices, and rice prices are falling), this provides momentum for the State Bank of Vietnam to continue maintaining an accommodative monetary policy.

Interbank interest rates remained stable

NHNN continued to provide liquidity support through OMO

- Despite the U.S. Dollar Index (DXY) continuing its sharp downward trend, the USD/VND exchange rate steadily appreciated throughout March and surged following the U.S. tariff announcement on April 2. As of April 8, the USD/VND had risen by 1.7% compared to the end of March.

Trade Outlook: Risks from U.S. Tariff Measures

Source: BIDV Securities Company (BSC) compiled from Bloomberg, FiinProX

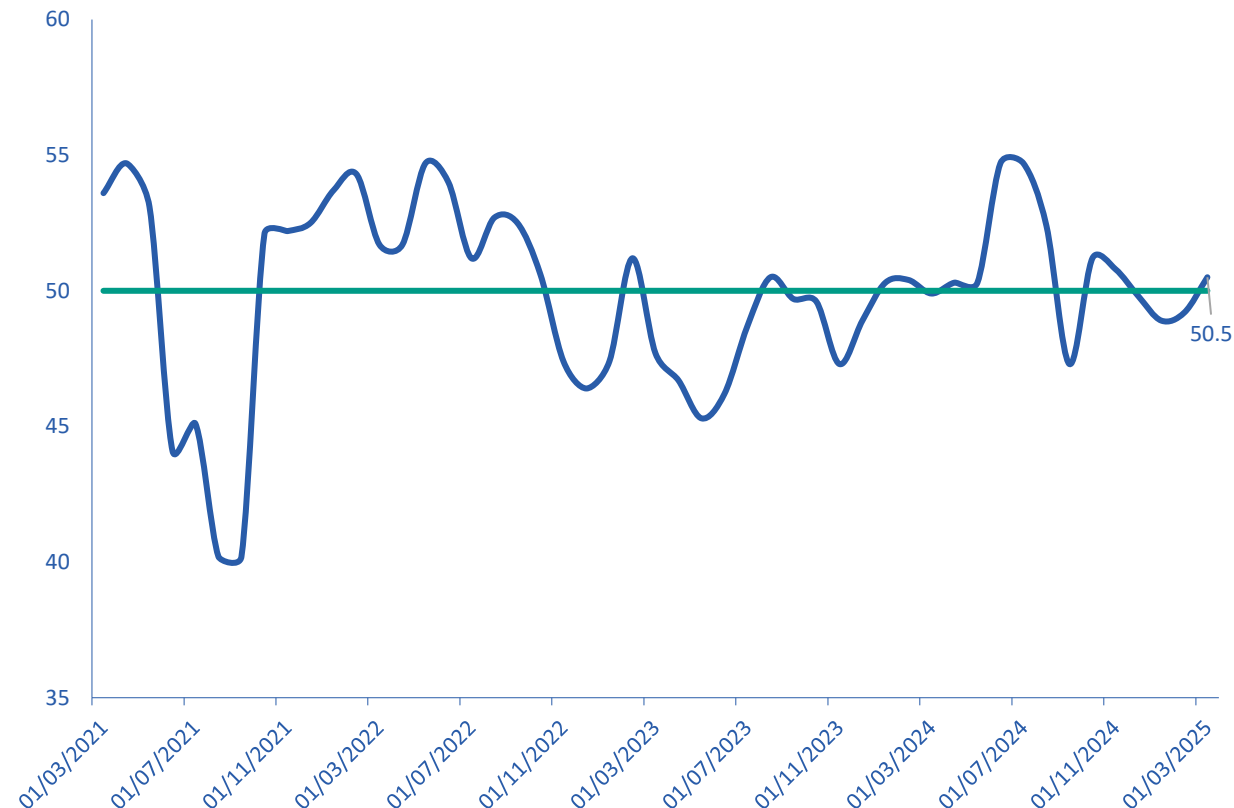

- 3M2025, exports increased by 10.64% YoY, imports rose by 17.03% YoY, the trade balance recorded a surplus of USD 3.15 billion.
- New export orders have declined for the fifth consecutive month.
- Several U.S. tariff rates currently applied to Vietnamese exports include: 10% (minimum tariff) on approximately 68% of Vietnam's export value to the U.S., effective from April 5 to July 9, 2025; 25% tariff on automobiles, effective from April 3, 2025

Maintained momentum prior to the U.S. tariff announcement

- 3M2025, FDI inflows maintained strong momentum, total registered foreign direct investment (FDI) into Vietnam reached USD 10.98 billion, up 34.7% YoY; Disbursed FDI was estimated at USD 4.96 billion, up 7.2% YoY
- Investment mainly flowed into manufacturing, followed by real estate.

Vietnam Manufacturing PMI – March 2025: 50.5

Source: BIDV Securities Company (BSC) compiled from the GSO, S&P Global

- This marked the first expansion in factory activity since November 2024, primarily driven by a rise in output—its first increase in three months and the fastest pace since August 2024.
- Business optimism remained below the series average, reflecting cautious expectations.

Corporate Bonds: Increasing number of early buybacks

(*): data includes the value of repurchased corporate bonds

- 3M2025: The total value of corporate bond issuance reached VND 18.6 trillion. In March 2025 alone, enterprises conducted early redemptions totaling VND 5.43 trillion, down 45% year-over-year (YoY) compared to March 2024. Regarding irregular disclosures, five bond codes reported late interest payments totaling VND 305 billion, and two bond codes recorded late principal payments totaling VND 355 billion in March.

Accelerating government bond issuance in 2025

Source: BIDV Securities Company (BSC) compiled from the VST, VBMA

- The State Treasury plans to issue 111 trillion VND in government bonds in Q1/2025 and 500 trillion VND for the full year, up 51.3% YoY.
- March 2025: there were 15 bond auctions conducted, with a total offering value of VND 76.5 trillion and a bid-to-cover ratio (winning rate) of 85.4%

VN-Index slightly increased by +0.11% MoM in March

VN-Index 2025 forecast

Source: BIDV Securities Company (BSC) compiled from various sources

- Vietnam's stock market experienced a slight rebound compared to the previous month, with the VN-Index edging up +0.11% MoM by the close of March 31, 2025. Key supporting factors during the month included: (1) Optimism over Q1/2025 earnings growth ahead of the upcoming reporting season; (2) Progress toward the launch of the KRX trading system and expectations for the market upgrade; (3) Strong GDP growth in Q1... Factors that may affect the market in April 2025 include ongoing trade negotiations between Vietnam and the U.S. during and after the 90-day postponement of the proposed 46% tariff, as well as trends in foreign investor capital flows.
- BSC Research forecasts that the VN-Index may fluctuate toward the 1,280 level in April 2025 before confirming a medium- to long-term uptrend.

P/E is discounted by over 14.86% compared to the 5-year average P/E

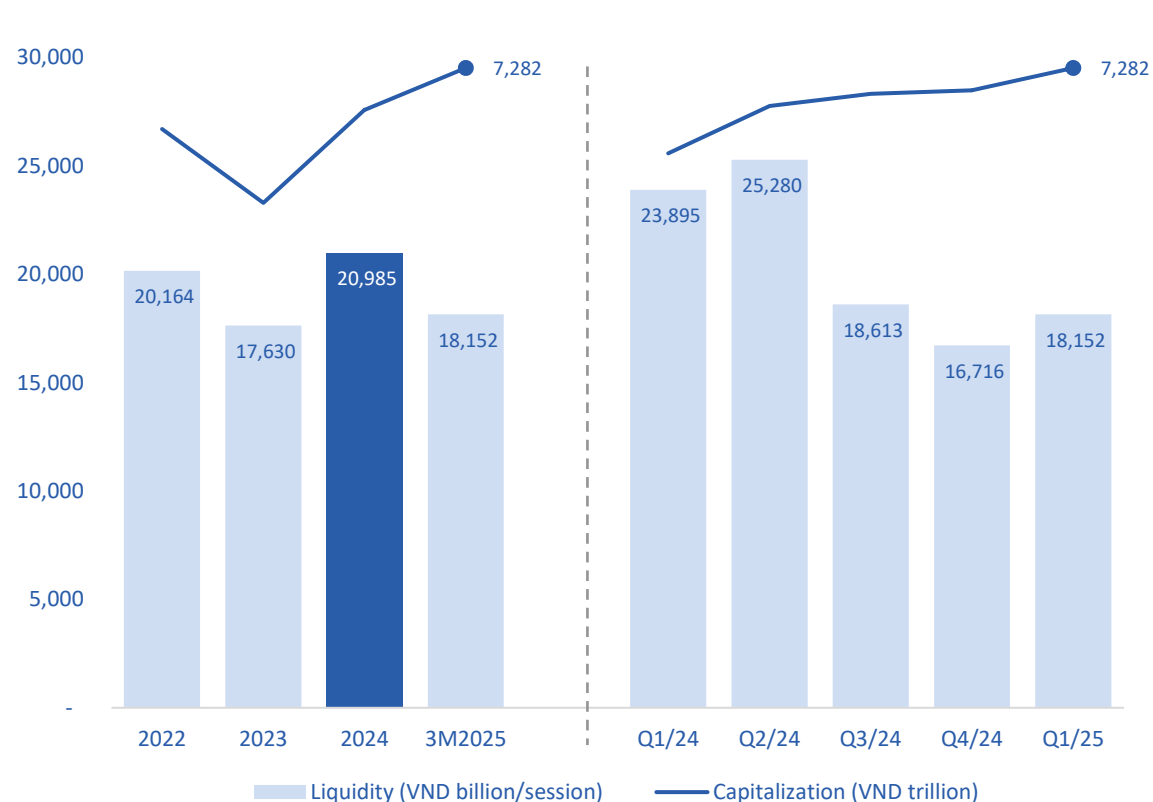

P/E of some countries

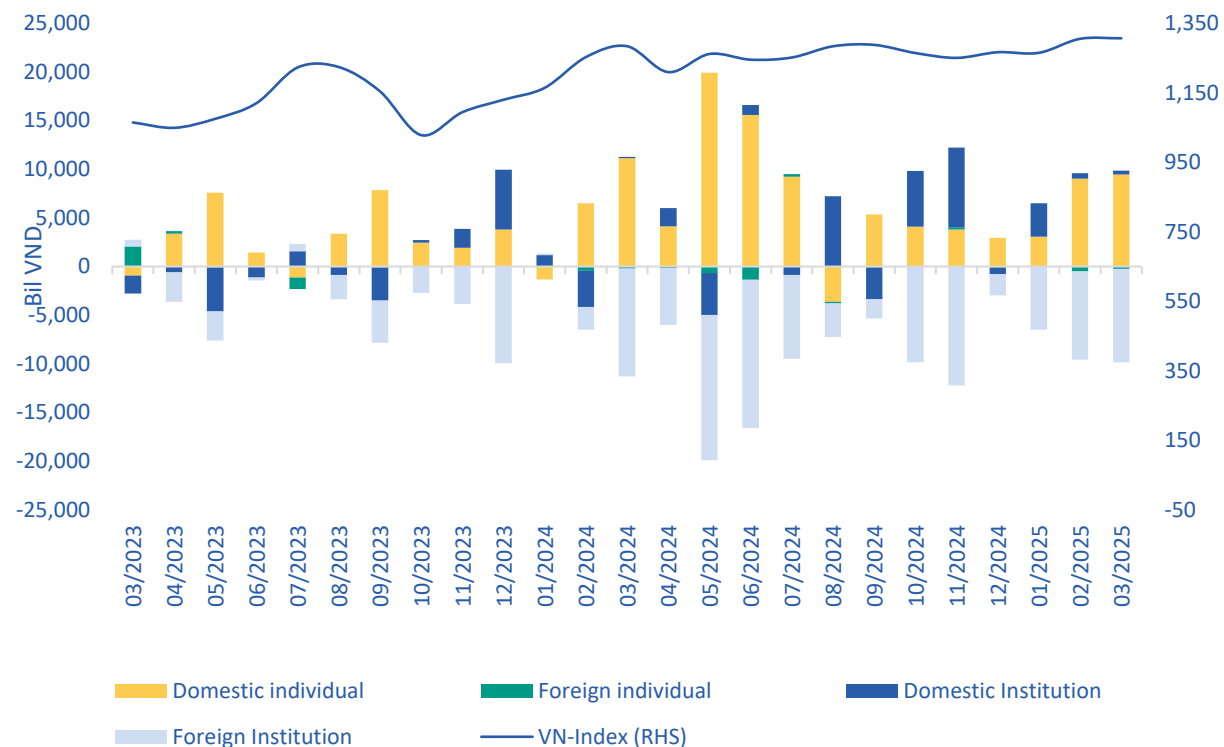

Source: BIDV Securities Company (BSC) compiled from Bloomberg

- As of the close on March 31, 2025, the VN-Index's P/E ratio stood at 13.14x, up 0.43% compared to February 2025, and reflecting a 14.86% discount relative to its 5-year average. The index continues to trade above its -1 standard deviation threshold. Meanwhile, P/B ratio remained stable at 1.68x. Growth momentum is driven by the acceleration of government streamlining and ministerial consolidation, along with the strong promotion of major public investment projects and the expectation of the stock market upgrade in September. These are key factors contributing to the VN-Index's attractive valuation in the medium to long term.
- VN-Index's P/E ratio is forecasted to expand its trading range to 14–14.5x in a positive scenario, as the index continues its upward trend toward the 1,300-point level.

Liquidity in March continued to recover compared to the previous month

Foreign investors maintained their net selling trend

Source: BIDV Securities Company (BSC) compiled from FiinProX

- The average trading value across the three exchanges in March reached VND 22,741 billion, up 27.3% MoM. Market liquidity continued to improve in March as investor sentiment strengthened, supported by: the issuance of economic growth-supporting policies during the National Assembly's extraordinary sessions; the acceleration of government restructuring and ministerial mergers; and the maintenance of stable interest rates. However, investors still face risks stemming from the continuous rise in exchange rates, driven by the ongoing U.S.–China trade war.
- In March 2025, domestic investors continued to counterbalance the net selling pressure from foreign investors. Notably, individual domestic investors recorded a net buying value of over VND 9,453 billion, up 4.46% compared to February 2025, while foreign investors extended their net selling streak with an outflow of more than VND 9,603 billion. The elevated DXY, amid heightened tensions from the trade conflict, was the main reason prompting foreign investors to seek safer assets for capital preservation.

- Foreign investors continued their strong net selling trend in March 2025, with a total outflow of nearly VND 10,941 billion. This trend was also observed in several other Asian markets, with significant net outflows recorded in Japan (-$24,722.8 million), China (-$5,686 million)...The main reasons behind the strong foreign net selling included: the escalation of the trade war; rising geopolitical tensions; and a sharp increase in the DXY index, driven by President Trump’s tariff policies, prompting foreign investors to shift toward safer investment channels. However, the outlook for attracting foreign capital inflows remains intact, supported by the scheduled launch of the KRX trading system in May and market upgrade expectations in September.
- In March 2025, VCI, VHM, and VIC were the top stocks favored by foreign investors, while FPT, TPB, and VNM experienced the strongest net selling from foreign investors.
