Vietnam Daily Monitor

Buy in the declining session

BSC's Forecast on the stock market

	Negative	Neutral	Positive
Day 24/6/2015			•
Week 22/6-26/6/2015	•
Month 6/2015			•

Summary

The indices fell slightly. VN30 corrected causing the VN-Index fell in the end of the session. Bank stocks maintained balancing while several stocks which have a major impact on market sentiment in recent sessions as JVC, OGC, SHN continued to decline.

Excluding the net selling value on VIC, foreign investors are the net buyers in the Vietnam stock market.

Recommendation

Stock market becomes balancing, liquidity declined for the second consecutive session. The money flow had no hug changes.

Risk-loving investors might take profits gradually. Risk-averse investors continue to wait for the declining session to open long position. Buying stocks having the prospect in 2015Q2 is reasonable at the present time.

Market highlights

Reducing in most of the trading time, the indices almost succeed to rebound in the end of session unless there was no strong sale in the ATC session. At closing, the stock indices closed in the red.

The weakness of the VN30 in the late afternoon is the main factor causing the VN-Index fell today. JVC, SHN, OGC continued to fall, partly influenced sentiment money flow into the market.

Bank stocks maintained balancing.

The most noticeable put-through transaction was the net sale of 8.4 million shares of VIC, which is worth VND 430.9 billion. However, the foreigners, excluding that net selling value, were still net buyers in the market Vietnam.

Recommendations

After a strong rally yesterday, stock market appeared to be short-winded when most of the stocks in VN30 adjusted. Broadly speaking, the market was at a quite balanced situation. The stocks that rose sharply yesterday such as VNM, MSN, bank group, securities companies traded flat or adjusted slightly while other stocks (HPG,HSG,BVH,DRC,GMD), which traded down or were accumulated yesterday closing session, has closed higher. Market liquidity declined by the second consecutive session and at low level, especially on HN-Index, and cash flow rotated between stocks which were taken profits. Market breadth appeared, in which large-cap stocks one after another rallied to keep market pace, while the shares with positive 2nd quarter's earnings forecast and seemed to be attractive increased separately.

The volatility price rhythm occurred frequently during the day, and the declining rhythm is not strong enough to attract investors or give a warning sign of reversal of the current upward trend. This market condition will persist until the end of June. Accumulating buying is more appropriate than trading in this period.

Investors can take profits and re-structure the portfolios with the gain rhythm. Buying stocks having the prospect in 2015Q2 is reasonable at the present time.

Technical views

After passing the upper Bollinger band, VN-Index fell back and created doji candle at 593 points (top edge of the Bollinger). At the current price, the recovery model from bottom W is basically completed. The signal as MACD and RSI are positive but the liquidity is on the decline, the stock cycle slowdown is an obstacle to VN-Index breaking through the psychological resistance of 600 - 605 points.

The breakout area may be just the technical signal with the potential of buying from ETF FTSE VN. Market status is not clear, and the next session is needed to assess the trend of the current market.
