Market outlook

The market witnessed a strong boom of blue chip stocks, especially VN30 stocks such as VJC (added to VN30 group today), HPG, MSN and GAS. The abundant money from foreign investors as well as the excitement of investors helped the market index approaching the level of 1100 points. Moreover, the momentum was widespread in sectors such as aviation, securities, steel and some real estate stocks. BSC said the market is rising quite strong recently and there may be pressure to take profits in the upcoming sessions. However, investors should not be nervous and can take advantage of the correction to increase stock exposure when the market is very optimistic and will likely surpass the old peak of 2007.

Technical Analysis: DGW - Approaching old peak
