Market outlook

Stock market: The VNIndex mostly fluctuated below the reference level in most of the time trading but recovered toward the end of the day and closed with modest gain. Investment cash flow decreased slightly when only 7 out of 19 sectors gained. Meanwhile, foreign investors were still net sellers on the HSX and net buyers on the HNX. The market liquidity increased from the previous session, and the market breadth was in equilibrium, showing that the current profit-taking pressure is not strong enough to reverse the trend. According to our assessment, VN-Index is likely to continue struggling at 940-945 points in the next few sessions.

Future contracts: All future contracts increased following VN30. Investors might consider buying for long-term contracts.

Covered warrants: In the trading session on October 20, 2020, majority of coverred warrants increased following underlying securities. Trading value increased.
